

Lazzaroni Maraschino

Liqueur

Lazzaroni Maraschino is one of the oldest liqueurs produced by Lazzaroni. In the company's archives recipes and labels date back to 1860. The product has been sold thru the years not only as a liqueur but also as an ingredient in the food industry.

This clear and relatively dry liqueur is made from Marasca cherries, including the crushed pits which give the liqueur a subtle bitter almond flavor. The Marasca cherry is a small cherry that is dark with a bitter taste and dry pulp.

Lazzaroni Maraschino is best used in cocktails and on fruit salad.

2014 International Review of Spirits Platinum Medal—Superlative

97 "Copper color. Attractive complex aromas of cherry bubblegum and cordial, circus peanut, floral jasmine tea, and delicate spices with a satiny, bright, moderately sweet medium-to-full body and a warming, involved, medium-length citrus cream, pepper, orange blossom honey, and pistachio brittle finish. A delicious and elegant fruit liqueur."
